Art classes! I teach art classes for Redmond Parks and Rec and also use other community centers for art group meetings with friends and neighbors. It is so helpful to have open flexible spaces with tables and chairs that can accommodate art activities.

Space for the Bridge of Promise Adult Recreation Program for Individuals with Disabilities is very valuable

The classes are not conducive to working parents. 5:30 AM or 6 AM would be good. Evening classes are hard to get to because traffic is so awful.

Seniors have put a great deal of time and money into our great city and (for some of us) raising our kids here. It is not too much to ask the Redmond dedicate this space for seniors only.
