July 1, 2020

Witnessed by Firefighters

- Late-morning, Firefighters were returning and observed two vehicles in the south back parking lot entrance blocking the engine's return.
- The vehicles pulled farther into the back parking lot to make way for the engine, then returned to their original positioning blocking the entrance.

Many other security breaches have occurred such as numerous car prowls, damage to vehicles, malicious intent to personal vehicles (cutting brake lines), garbage in the back lot and generator enclosure (beer cans, letter, feces, urine), a dead body was found behind the Annex building, and graffiti on the MIH building and waste/recycling receptacles.

Members of the general public have cut through our back lot during active drills coming within several feet of the engine and equipment putting not only themselves by Firefighters in harm's way. Additionally, the engine and/or aid cars occasionally respond out of the back bay doors when the front bay doors are out of service. Civilian vehicles potentially blocking emergency vehicles responding to 9-1-1 is not acceptable.

Finally, Station 11 previously experienced a large adult male enter through the back apparatus bay area into the kitchen and walk up behind a female employee who was alone in the kitchen. It ended up being a harmless incident aside from the initial fright and the male urinating on the kitchen floor, but it had the potential for a very different outcome.
