OVERVIEW STATEMENT:

Interest rates remain at historically low levels, offering opportunities to achieve debt service savings from refunding (i.e., refinancing) outstanding bonds. The City would like to pursue taxable advance refunding of its 2013 Limited Tax General Obligation (LTGO) Bonds and its 2014 Utility Revenue Bonds for an estimated savings of $3.6 million based on current interest rates. Potential refunding opportunities include the following:

Taxable Advance Refunding of LTGO Bonds, 2013

- The 2013 LTGO debt was issued to refund and defease the outstanding lease revenue bonds originally issued by Redmond Community Properties, a non-profit agency, on behalf of the City. Funds from the bonds were used to build City Hall, the parking garage, and other enhancements to the City campus. The outstanding principal amount is $20,165,000, with a final maturity date of December 1, 2035.

Taxable Advance Refunding of Utility Revenue Bonds, 2014

- The 2014 Stormwater Capital Improvement Revenue Bonds were issued for the purpose of constructing regional facilities in the Overlake and Downtown areas of the City, and flow control and water quality facilities. Funds from the bonds were also used for stream and habitat restoration projects. The outstanding principal amount is $17,785,000, with a final maturity date of December 1, 2034.

BUDGET IMPACT:

Total Cost:

The City's Fiscal Policy specifies a minimum threshold of 4% net present value (NPV) savings for refunding bond issues. Based on a July 2021 refunding analysis by our Financial Advisor, Public Financial Management, Inc. (PFM), the estimated savings are as follows:

Taxable Advance Refunding of LTGO Bonds, 2013

- Net Present Value Savings = $2.17 million (this is the total estimated savings over the life of the refunding bonds in today's dollars)
- Net Present Value Savings % = 12.68% (this is the total estimated savings over the life of the refunding bonds in percent terms)
- Average Annual Savings = $171,870
- True Interest Cost = 1.79% (this encompasses the various interest rates of the refunding bonds as well as other costs associated with issuing the bonds) vs. 3.84% for the 2013 LTGO bonds that are being refinanced

Taxable Advance Refunding of Utility Revenue Bonds, 2014

- Net Present Value Savings = $1.45 million (this is the total estimated savings over the life of the refunding bonds in today's dollars)
- Net Present Value Savings % = 10.43% (this is the total estimated savings over the life of the refunding bonds in percent terms)
- Average Annual Savings = $114,851
- True Interest Cost = 1.75% (this encompasses the various interest rates of the refunding bonds as well as other costs associated with issuing the bonds) vs. 3.26% for the 2014 revenue bonds that are being refinanced

The refunding bonds are tentatively scheduled to be sold at the end of September 2021. The actual savings will depend on market conditions at the time of sale.
